

DYES

A dye is a substance that dissolves
or disintegrates into water.

Except of synthetic dyes,
the lightfastness is usually poor to moderate,
Soluble non-synthetic dyes bleed,
the color penetrates through other layers of paint
or is spreading in the immediate vicinity.

Less suitable for durable paintings.

Non-synthetic dyes
are also not water-resistant
such as

Ecoline, Drawing ink, Bister (powders), Brusho (powders), ...
